Missoula County

Located in western Montana, Missoula County is Montana's second most populous with 78,687 residents, according to the 1990 Census.

According to the Montana Almanac, by authors Andrea Merrill and Judy Jacobson, the county was established in 1865 and was once part of Washington Territory.

Missoula, the county seat, is the state's third largest city with a population of 48,430. Nicknamed the "Garden City," Missoula often has a milder climate than other Montana cities. Missoula is home to the University of Montana and the 1996 NCAA Championship Grizzly football team. The city is also a major medical and retail hub in western Montana.

According to the U.S. Bureau of the Census, median income for Missoula County households in 1989 was $23,388. The county is 2,618.4 square miles in area; 2,598.2 square miles in land area and 20.17 in inland water area.

County residents experience the four distinct seasons. According to the Great Falls Weather Service, the average daily low in January in Missoula between 1961 and 1990 was 14.8 degrees above zero and average January snowfall 13.6 inches. The average daily high in July was 84.2 degrees above zero. The annual average precipitation during the same period in Missoula was 13.4 inches and the length of growing season 137 days.

PLEASE NOTE: Because of time and budget constraints, we are only able to update our county flyers periodically. Individual tables are updated on a more frequent basis. You can call us if you'd like the most current information for a particular county. The Annual Averages for County Employment By Industry are updated annually, usually in June. The Top Employers are updated annually. Per Capita Income statewide is usually released late spring. Population data for Montana is released in late December and county data in March. The Annual Average Labor Force information is benchmarked annually and numbers available before March. The other tables contain Census information and will be updated every 10 years. You can also look for more current information on our website listed on the front of this publication.
